

ADOLESCENT PROCESS GROUP FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Wednesdays 4:15-5:15pm
$75 per group

The adolescent process group is a traditional process psychotherapy group designed to encourage curiosity and exploration through the transitional time of adolescence. Participants will have the opportunity to examine and challenge their values and beliefs as well as determine their growth potential in recovery from an eating disorder.

ANNE MOORE, Psy.D.

Dr. Moore has a 25+ year history of working with individuals who struggle with eating disorders. She has experience working with and running treatment programs at all levels of care including outpatient, partial hospitalization, intensive outpatient, and residential treatment. She is the author of "Living Joyfully In Our Bodies". Dr. Moore has run several long term groups with adolescents and appreciates that it is a unique transition between childhood and adulthood. She enjoys supporting individuals as they live in the "in between" of adolescence and navigate new and challenging terrain as they mature.
